

PRESIDENT TIGHTENS CONTROL OF EXPORTS

Issues Order Forbidding Shipment of Goods to European Neutrals

STATEMENT BY WILSON

Intentions Are To See That American Products are Not of Benefit To Enemy

READY TO GO ANY LIMIT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—President Wilson tightened the government's control of exports tonight by issuing an order forbidding the shipment of any goods to European neutral countries except under license and by extending the lists for which license is required in shipment to the allies and neutrals other than European countries to include cotton, all meats, sugar and most of America's other export commodities.

In a statement accompanying his proclamation the president said one of the first intentions of the government will be to see that no American products are made "the occasion of benefit to the enemy, either directly or indirectly." Officials interpreted the order as forecasting a vigorous use of the export control as a war weapon and a policy of the strictest range of countries contiguous to Germany.

Exports to Germany Prohibited.

Exports to Germany and her allies also are formally prohibited by the president's order and this is understood to mean that the export control is about to supersede the British system of giving letters of assurance for American cargoes.

Up to now there has been nothing except the British blockade to prevent the shipment of American goods to Germany. Tonight's order in this respect accomplishes one of the purposes sought in the trading with the enemy bill pending in congress. Coin, bullion, currency and evidences of indebtedness are placed under export license restrictions to European neutrals, whenever regulations governing their export have been promulgated by the secretary of the treasury.

The president's order contains the first formal announcement of the transfer of administration of the export control from the department of commerce to the export and administrative board of which Vance McCormick is chairman. When the administrative board made the fact public a few days ago it was explained that the action was taken to facilitate the issuance of licenses.

Explains Purposes.

Accompanying the proclamation was a statement from the president explaining its purposes. It said:

"The purpose and effect of this proclamation is not export prohibition but merely export control. It is not the intention to interfere unnecessarily with our foreign trade, but our own domestic needs must be adequately safeguarded and there is the added duty of meeting the necessities of all the nations at war with the imperial German government.

"After these needs are met, it is our wish and intention to minister to the needs of the neutral nations as far as our resources permit. This task will be discharged without other than the very proper qualifications that the liberation of our surplus products shall not be made the occasion of benefit to the enemy, either directly or indirectly.

Two Lists Prepared

"The two lists have been prepared in the interests of facility and expediency. The first list, applicable to the enemy and his allies, and to the neutral countries of Europe, brings under control practically all articles of commerce; while the second list, applicable to all the other countries of the world, makes only a few additions to the list of commodities controlled by the proclamation of July 9, 1917.

"It is obvious that a closer supervision and control of exports is necessary with respect to those European neutrals within the sphere of hostilities than is required for those countries farther removed.

"The establishment of those distinctions will simplify the administrative processes and enable us to continue our policy of minimizing the interruption of trade."

Ready To Go Limit.

The proclamation makes it clear for the first time that the U. S. is prepared to go to almost any limit to prevent food from going to Germany. Neutrals already have been informed both in notes and in conversations with their representatives in Washington that the U. S. will see to it that no American goods may be used even to replace indirectly goods shipped from neutral countries to Germany. Some administration officials even favor stopping food shipments to neutrals where the food is used to feed workmen engaged in manufacturing war materials for German use.

THIRD WEEK OF WAR TAX DEBATE OPENS

Hope to Compromise Varying Opinions of Measure

Spent Day in Talk Without Action on Pending Postal Sections of Bill—Senator Simmons Fails to Get Consent for Final Voting
Date

Washington, Aug. 27.—Tension in the senate's struggle over the war tax bill mounted so today, with the opening of the third week of debate, that the leaders began paying the way for applying the cloture rule to curtail discussion and negotiations were set afoot with the hope of compromising the varying opinions over higher taxation of war profits and incomes.

The senate spent the day in talk, without action, on the pending postage sections of the bill, while leaders earnestly conferred on hastening the measure's passage. They hoped to dispose of the one cent letter postage increase and the publishers' tax provisions tomorrow, but there was no certainty that it could be accomplished and the war profits section reached Wednesday.

Petitions for Cloture

Petitions for cloture, which tonight had more than fifty senators' signatures—only a few less than the necessary two-thirds to put cloture into effect—were circulated after Senator Simmons, in charge of the bill, sought and failed to secure unanimous consent to fix a date for final voting on either the entire bill or the war profits section. Several members, however, signed with the understanding that the cloture rule would not be sought unless a filibuster developed. Among those signing were many favoring drastic increase in war profits and income tax rates. Presentation of the petitions is not planned by Senator Simmons for several days, or until after the war profits debate begins.

In today's debate on the postage taxes, Senators Hardwick, Pomeroy and McKellar led the attack on the bill's provisions, advocating higher postal rates for newspapers and magazines. Senators Harding, Smoot, McCumber and others opposed higher postage rates, while Senators Borah, Townsend and others urged entire elimination of postage taxes from the bill. Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, expects to speak tomorrow for his plan to eliminate the publishers' postage and income tax provisions.

MANY COAL OPERATORS ARRIVE IN WASHINGTON

Will Take up With Government Officials
Prices Fixed on Coal

Washington, Aug. 27.—Coal operators from many parts of the country came to Washington today to take up with government officials the prices just fixed for their product. Alabama operators, brought with them schedules purporting to show that in some instances their coal costs them more to produce than the government has allowed as a selling price.

Cost figures prepared by the operators will be presented to the federal trade commission, on whose part of production statistics President Wilson based his prices for coal.

Officials admit that the prices set will drive many operators out of business, but say that while individuals will suffer the public generally will benefit.

The labor situation continues to give officials some concern. The government, some officials believe, may have to interfere even to the extent of working out with all interests concerned a general wage scale.

STUCK THRU HEART WITH ENVELOPE OPENER

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 27.—William Dore, aged 56, business agent of the Painters' Union, tonight made a statement in which he acknowledged the killing of Herman Swartz, Chicago, 28, foreman of the Brand Decorating company, of that city, but claiming to have acted in self defense. Following two disputes with Swartz over the job of painting the men met the third time, and Dore stuck a seven-inch envelope opener into Swartz's heart. He died almost instantly. Swartz is single and had been here several weeks. Dore was arrested only a few days ago for striking a non-union painter, George Pratt, over the head with a club, but was released without prosecution.

STATEMENT RAISES TUMULT.

Athens, Aug. 27.—M. Bousios, opposition member, raised a tumult in the chamber of deputies when he declared that King Constantine never abdicated but only had been dismissed by the Entente Powers as proved by the fact that the act of abdication had not been presented to the chamber. Premier Venizelos and other deputies left seats to protect M. Bousios from personal attacks by angry members of the majority.

BUTTER AND EGGS TO BE CHEAPER

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—There will be no "dollar butter" nor "dollar eggs" next winter, according to Edward Davis, president of the Chicago butter and egg board. Organized forces are cooperating with the government to keep prices as conservative as possible, he asserted.

"Butter, wholesale next winter, may cost from 43 to 45 cents a pound, and eggs 40 cents a dozen, if my judgment is correct," he said today. "Butter at 45 cents wholesale means that it will retail at from 52 to 53 cents a pound."

INVESTIGATION OF HOUSTON RIOTS STARTS

City Council Appoints Board of Inquiry

Major General Bell Ready for Illinois
Negro Troops Assigned to Camp
Logan for Training—Four Separate Investigations Being Conducted

Houston, Aug. 27.—A separate investigation of the killing of seventeen persons during indiscriminate shooting by one hundred negroes of the 24th Infantry last Thursday night was provided for late today by the city council which appointed a board of inquiry of seven members.

"They may and they may not come here," said Major General George Bell, Jr., tonight in discussing the disposition to be made of the Eighth Illinois Infantry, colored, assigned to Camp Logan, Houston, before the trouble.

He added he understood the quartermaster here had received a telegram from the quartermaster's department in Washington stating that the Illinois negro soldiers were coming.

"It makes no difference to me," said the general. "I can handle them."

Four Investigations

With the action of the council this afternoon there are now four investigations being conducted or about to be conducted into the west-end raid. One is that by Colonel George Cress, inspector-general of the southern department; another by U. S. Attorney John M. Green; a third by District Attorney John H. Crocker, and the fourth by the city board of inquiry.

The resolution providing for the councilmanic investigation says charges that Houston police had improperly dealt with the negro soldiers; that negro citizens had assisted the negro soldiers in their rioting and that intoxicating liquors were carried into the negro camp, will be completely gone into.

TWO BOOTLEGGERS KILLED BY OFFICERS

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 27.—Two men were shot dead and three others seriously injured in a battle between bootleggers and Deputy Sheriff Wiley M. Hall and Chief of Police Bird Walls at Frankfort Heights, near here, last night.

The dead are:
Paul and Mike Builino.

Their brother in law, George Wachstue, was among the injured. Frankfort Heights is in "dry" territory. Neighbors last night complained that the "dry" law was being violated at Wachstue's home.

Hall and Walls went to the scene and as they approached one of the party drew a gun and shot Hall thru the leg. A general battle followed.

Smith denies any connection with the murder. He admits having been in Lemars, Ia., last Monday when Alma Braun, school girl, was assaulted and murdered. Smith is from Vicksburg, Miss. He is being kept on the top floor of the jail to prevent any attempt at lynching.

WAR NEWS SUMMARIZED

Somewhat slowly, but nevertheless surely, the Italians are breaking down the resistance of the Austrians around Monte Santo, north of Gorizia, and making their way eastward toward the border of Upper Carniola.

In their endeavor to hold back the Italians the Austrians have brought to this sector large numbers of fresh men, and at last reports the fighting was most intense, but with the Italians having overcome the resistance of the Austrians at various points.

Virtually nothing is being vouchsafed in the Italian official communications which even approximately records the advances General Cadorena's men have made since they began their offensive from the region of Tolmino to the sea, the Italian war office probably desiring to conceal from the enemy the exact objectives it has in view. The latest communication, for instance, leaves entirely alone the situation on the Carso front, where previous reports had announced progress for the Italians toward Trieste.

On the front in France the Germans have been throwing counterattacks against the French line in the region of Verdun, but not only have the forces of General Petain maintained their gains in their entirety, but have taken more than 1,100 additional prisoners.

Likewise on the Aisne front the German crown prince is keeping up his offensive against the French, but here also the attempts met with complete failure.

Along the front held by the British the operations have scarcely risen above the character of trench raids, altho on various sectors vigorous artillery duels are in progress. The Berlin war official communication reports the capture of Russian positions near Jacobstat, but makes no mention of a resumption of the operations begun last week east of Riga. In Roumania the Russian dominion forces still are holding their own against the invaders, having retaken height positions northwest of Soveia which the Germans captured last week. On the Pokshani sector Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces seemingly have been unable to make further advances.

WILSON WILL DISPATCH PEACE REPLY SOON

Reach Agreement for Answer to Pope's Proposals

Putting Ideas into Diplomatic Language is all that Remains to be Done—No Authorized Statement Given as to Nature of Reply.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Signs were in evidence today of the dispatch of President Wilson's reply to the peace proposals of Pope Benedict at an early date. Officials freely conceded the probability of the early completion of the communication, indicating that the president and Secretary Lansing at least have agreed upon the basic features of the reply, so that what remains to be done is to put these ideas into diplomatic language.

So far no authorized statement has been forthcoming as to the nature of the reply. Officials even deprecate speculation concerning it, and there has been formal denial of a published report that Secretary Lansing has informed some of the entente diplomats that Pope Benedict's proposals would be rejected.

No official opinion exists that the proposals will be accepted, but in diplomatic practice there is a wide field for discussion between the two extremes of rejection and acceptance. The fact that Pope Benedict, as was pointed out by a statement from the Vatican, in some of the most important features of his communication adopted principles enunciated by President Wilson, is regarded in some quarters as insuring the peace proposals against unjustified rejection.

On the other hand the failure of the Pope's plan to meet some of the essential demands of President Wilson as a condition of peace is regarded as making it certain that there can be no acceptance.

KERENSKY REVIEWS RUSSIAN TROOPS

Tells Them They are Able to Drive Back Enemy

National Conference Being Held to Consider Military and Political Problems Which Confront Country
—Some Factions Dissatisfied with Dictator.

Moscow, Aug. 27.—Premier Kerensky, who came to Moscow yesterday to attend the national conference which is now being held for consideration of the military and political problems which confront the country, reviewed troops at the Hippodrome today and in addressing them said he was convinced by the valor they were showing that they would be able to drive back the enemy at the front and crush any attempt at a counter revolution.

"Premier Kerensky's speech in opening the National Conference did not satisfy a single party or succeed in uniting the different groups in mutual service of the country," says the Exchange Telegraph Company correspondent at Moscow. "The Democrats are dissatisfied with the dictator-like government. The anti-Democrats expected a practical program for the carrying out of measures to put down anarchy. They also are dissatisfied with the premier's declaration regarding the impossibility of imagining a country without freedom, saying this is no time to talk of freedom and social reforms."

"Monday is expected to be the day of atonement. The various groups are expected to speak out freely and voice their aspirations. Much depends on whose words find an echo in M. Kerensky's own aspirations. "I personally do not believe the cabinet will undergo changes as a coalition is the only possible form of government at this juncture. Should the conference fail in a last effort to organize a national government the responsibility will fall on the shoulders which put the interests of their own classes above those of the country."

"Moscow has resumed its normal aspect. The strike has been discontinued and the Moscow council of workmen and soldiers delegates, with other organizations has appealed to the population to abstain from demonstrations. The Petrograd maximalists of the central executive council have been deprived of their mandates on account of unwillingness to submit to the decision against separate action."

NO SHORTAGE IN ARMY EQUIPMENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—No serious shortage in clothing or equipment is expected to be disclosed when the national army is mobilized next month. Secretary Baker said today that arrangements for the enormous supplies necessary are so well advanced that whatever shortage is found will be overcome quickly.

The same situation prevails as to cantonments. Most of the divisional training establishments are nearing completion and all will be ready for the men as rapidly as the levies arrive.

The first British Enfield rifles chambered for American ammunition, the standardized product of three American factories turning out these guns to supplement the Springfield rifle output of government arsenals was presented to the secretary today. Enough Enfields to supply the national army are expected to be ready by the time the draft forces have been trained to the stage of drilling with weapons.

CREATE COMMISSIONS TO INVESTIGATE I. W. W.'S

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Creation of a special federal commission to investigate disorders such as those resulting from the I. W. W. activities in the west was recommended to President Wilson today by the council of national defense.

The proposed commission would have the authority and support of the president to investigate and report on agitations and labor disturbances. Creation of the commission was originally recommended by Samuel Gompers.

MAY AUTHORIZE ADDITIONAL BONDS

Present Congress May Add
Two Billion Dollars to War Fund

LARGE SUM AVAILABLE

Kitchin Declares Estimates By McAdoo Make Additional
Bonds Necessary

$21,000,000,000.00 NEEDED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Two billion dollars may be added to the total of bonds to be authorized at the present session of congress making a total of approximately $21,000,000,000 available to the government during the first fiscal year ending June 30, 1918.

Democratic Leader Kitchin said tonight that estimates submitted to him by the treasury department made it appear that the additional authorization probably would be necessary. Secretary McAdoo will be asked to explain the situation when he appears before the ways and means committee tomorrow to discuss the forthcoming administration $11,538,456,640 bond and certificate bill.

Estimates by Kitchin. Present indications, according to Mr. Kitchin, are that $19,000,000,000 will meet the expense of the fiscal year, but it is thought best to have a $2,000,000,000 margin for emergencies.

"It now seems probable," he said, "that the total amount of money needed for the fiscal year will be about $19,000,000,000. This estimate covers about $7,000,000,000 for loans to the allies, $3,000,000,000 of which already has been provided; $1,300,000,000 for current expenses, inclusive of war, leaving about $10,000,000,000 for war expenses. Included in the war estimate is $176,000,000 for the new insurance bill and $1,000,000,000 for the shipping bill."

How Money Will Be Raised

The $21,000,000,000 would be raised as follows:

Bonds for allies, $7,000,000,000.
Pending revenue bill, $3,000,000,000.
War certificates $4,000,000,000.
Bonds for domestic purposes already authorized $2,000,000,000.
Proposed new bonds $2,000,000,000.

War savings certificates $2,000,000,000.

Regular revenue $1,300,000,000.

Approximately $11,000,000,000 of the foregoing amounts are included in the bond and certificate bill which the ways and means committee today began to consider. The bill would authorize $7,000,000,000 for allied loans, $3,000,000,000 to be used in refunding 3 1/2 per cent bonds already authorized; $2,000,000,000 in war certificates and $2,000,000,000 in war savings certificates. It also contains a re-authorization provision for $2,000,000,000 in war certificates and would provide for taking over other previously authorized bonds in the following amounts:

Panama Canal $225,000,000.
Naval construction $150,000,000.
Mexican border patrol, Danish West Indies and Alaskan railroad $100,000,000.

Three per cent Panama Canal bonds issued in 1916, $63,945,460.

No attempt will be made, Mr. Kitchin believes, to add the newly suggested $2,000,000,000 issue to the bill now before the committee. It will come in as a separate measure if at all.

Brief Committee Meeting

A brief meeting of the committee today to consider the bill made it obvious that hopes of leaders to pass the measure on Wednesday could not be realized. An insistent demand for

AN ECONOMY MEASURE.

In California they have started an industry which Morgan county farmers would welcome here. The California people have developed a process for canning rabbits and the meat thus preserved is said to excel pork or chicken in nutritive value. There are more rabbits hereabouts this year as the result of the protection afforded by the new law than has been true for many years past. In fact there are so many rabbits that a great deal of damage to gardens and fruit trees has resulted. A change in the law and the establishment of a rabbit cannery would be steps toward economy in more ways than one.

YOUR FAVORITE BOOK FOR A SOLDIER.

The books for the soldiers have been coming in a few each day at the Public Library. The volumes are well selected. People in Jacksonville are not giving worthless books, books that they do not care for and that no one else could care much about; they seem to have adopted the principle advocated in a number of cities of sending their favorite books to be read in the camps and hospitals.

Two hundred and twenty five volumes are on the tables in the west reading room now and three hundred and forty magazines have been collected. The men like to read good current magazines. The committee however suggests that nothing over two years be sent, except of course such magazines as National Geographic and Travel.

The first report of the work done here was sent in last week. Now that Chautauqua is over it is probable that books will be collected a little more rapidly as people will have more time to look over their shelves and decide what to give.

ATTORNEYS FRATERNIZE

Pana lawyers are furnishing a good example of war time patriotism and general good fellowship. Arthur Fitzpatrick is the city attorney there and he has just been accepted at the second officers' training camp at Ft. Sheridan. To carry out the letter of the law an election would be necessary, but by agreement other attorneys will attend to the city's business and also to Mr. Fitzpatrick's private practice without charge. This same plan will be followed out, it is said, by physicians in many cities, and so one result of this war is sure to be the blotting out of many jealousies and rivalries and the cementing of many friendships.

LAMBS ON INSTITUTION LAWNS.

As the result of a suggestion made by Gov. Lowden ewe lambs will be cared for on farms of a number of the state institutions, in the endeavor to directly increase the wool supply and indirectly to create a greater interest among farmers in the sheep industry. Figures presented by the American Wool Growers association and by various other organizations recently have indicated how very short is the supply of sheep and wool by comparison with the world needs. Unless something is done to increase the number of sheep, if the war continues there will be a shortage which will cause great suffering in the armies and among the people generally.

So do not be surprised if in passing any state institutions in this city you see lambs under the care of shepherds quietly browsing on the institution grounds. This sight will not be any more unusual than that which has met the eyes of people along South Main street the past week, for Dr. Hill at Jacksonville State hospital had the institution's fine dairy herd of Holsteins grazing on the lawn. This was an economy idea for the purpose of increasing the institution's pasturage without additional cost.

AN EXPERIMENT WITH TRAFFIC LAWS

Cities throughout the U. S. small and large, will watch the result of the proposed enforcement in New York of the ordinances governing motor traffic. It is an acknowledged fact that the traffic laws in every large city are daily violated and that the same is true of the state law governing speed on the country highways. The fact is that in various instances the law specifies a lower speed than it is possible to take except with the high priced cars and a speed requirement which, if complied with, would quickly result in a congestion of traffic in the larger cities. In Chicago they say that traffic officers are angry if an auto driver goes at a speed any where near as slow as the law requires.

On the country roads it is customary for many drivers to travel at a rate of 15 to 20 miles an hour above the law's provision. In New York there have been so many automobile accidents with consequent injury to life and property, so that a new plan is to be tried out by enforcing the law. The courts will co-operate with the police department and heavy fines will be assessed against violators. This experiment will be watched with interest thru the country because of the realization that with the fast growing number of automobiles some change in policy is necessary in all cities.

A SERMON FROM THE FIRING LINE.

(Cleveland Moffet, who was arrested recently in New York for interrupting a Sinn Fein orator in his denunciations of America and England, and who since has organized a Vigilance Corps to report on the seditious outpourings of soap-box pacifists and pro-Germans, has sent to The Vigilantes the following inspiring lines which he has received from an officer on General Pershing's staff now at the front in France. "I wish," writes Mr. Moffet, "that every American man and woman, whether highly or lowly placed, could read and ponder and act upon them.")

This is the message:
"We need everyone's help in this thing and all the discipline, family, state, military and economic, that we can create."

"If this isn't done and done at once, thousands upon thousands of lives will have been sacrificed in vain."

"If politics enters into this war or our politicians squabble, it's going to murder our men."

"Preach this. It's no time for small differences of opinion or difference of small opinions. Do your bit to get unity and prompt action. It's action, not words that we need."

AIRPLANES FORETOLD.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

Charles A. Dana, whose brilliancy as its editor made the New York Sun "shine for all," visited Jerusalem. He wrote afterward of the extraordinary material fulfillment of Biblical prophecy wherein was foretold that men should some day come up to the Holy City "behind a swaying furnace."

The little Baldwin locomotive upon its crooked track gave a good imitation of a "swaying furnace" that bright February day I ascended from Jaffa to Zion.

But that has nothing to do with airplanes, which is what I meant to write about. There are 50,000 airplanes hovering over the armies in Europe, and the United States may send over that many more.

Now turn to your Bible and read how old Jeremiah foresaw those flocks of winged men.

"Behold, he shall fly as an eagle and spread his wings," So said Jeremiah.

Hosea also took a mental photograph centuries upon centuries ago of this human bird: "He shall come like an eagle against the house of the Lord."

Zachariah, too, had a similar vision, and he beheld "two women, and the wind was in their wings."

But it was grand old Isaiah who pictured accurately what the Wright brothers were going to do thousands of years before they did it.

"The stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, Immanuel."

Can you put upon canvas a more graphic picture of those 50,000 airplanes over the battlefield than did Isaiah: "To the land that is shadowing dark with wing?"

Is it any wonder that the old prophet inquired: "Who are these who fly as a cloud?"

THE END APPROACHING.

Those who are looking for an early end to the great war will find their views confirmed by the following editorial from the St. Louis Globe Democrat:

The statement of the London correspondent of the New York Sun, printed in yesterday's Globe-Democrat, that "England and France believe Germany will be unable to endure another winter of war," is persuasively supported by an array of facts and a series of events that have revealed much as to the present condition of Germany. This paper has called attention to these conditions that have been disclosed by reports from many sources, but mainly thru the growing independence of the German press, in itself a significant sign of change, and we have not hesitated to express the opinion that the end is drawing near. The continuous and uniform failure of the German troops to make any headway on the western front, the long, unbroken series of defeats that they have suffered in that theater of the war, and their relative inactivity in any other field of action, is evidence not only that they are being outclassed, but that they have lost spirit if not hope. Nowhere are the Germans fighting with the energy they displayed a year ago, while on the other hand the spirit, as well as the power of their western enemies is growing.

But the weakness at the front is but a symptom, a result, of the rapidly growing weakness within Germany. The indications are plain that the troops are not supported as they were. They have neither the men nor the munitions to keep their ranks filled and supplied as they were up to recent times. Moreover, the superior arms of the English and French makes it possible, as the Sun correspondent points out, to slaughter the Germans in comparative safety, and the army, as he further says, "is becoming dangerously infected with the feeling that it no longer has a fair chance."

Back of all this, we repeat, is the internal weakness and growing discouragement of the empire. The total wealth of Germany at the beginning of the war was estimated at 360,000,000,000 marks. Half of this stupendous total, says the Munich Independent Committee for German Peace, has been wiped out by war expenditures. Germany has exhausted its supplies of raw materials, it has lost its wealth and its credit, the markets of the world and the good will of the world. Its people are suffering for food. It can derive no help from its allies. Its only hope is to recoup itself by enormous indemnities, possible only thru decisive victory, and that hope must now be vanishing. It is now, we believe, nothing but the vanity and the fear of its rulers, and the lack of full knowledge of the facts by the people, that stands in the way of an immediate ending of the war.

The war was started by a German folly, it has been waged in the same stupendous folly, and it is this folly that still persists. But it cannot hold out much longer. The participation of the United States makes the result certain, and the end is rapidly approaching.

NOT IN STOCK.

I long for peace, for balmy peace;
I'd like to see the scrapping cease.
I asked the kaiser if the boom of peace would reach us pretty soon.
"We have no peace in stock," he said, and wiped some carnage from his head. "We used to keep such goods on hand, until we found there's no demand. We have none, be it understood, but here is something just as good." With that he jabbed me with a spear and winged me on half a dozen kings, who deal in gore and kindred things, and asked if they had peace for sale, and all ways heard the same old wall.

"There's absolutely no demand for peace, in bulk, in crates or canned. We strive to keep abreast the times, we have on hand all standard crimes; we can deliver at your door the latest novelties in gore. For winter goods we're making room, and closing out our stock of doom; if you desire a dead man's bone, just call us up by telephone. But peace! It's strictly out of date; we can't afford to pay the freight; we couldn't sell it if we would—but here is something just as good." With that, before I could escape, they shot me up with slugs and grape. You cannot buy a pound of peace in any mart from Cork to Greece.

JACK WRIGHT ARRESTED ON PEACE WARRANT
Troubles seem to come thick and fast for Jack Wright. A few days Wright was arrested on the charge of bootlegging and was fined and then made to pay an old fine which had been standing against him. Yesterday Wright was again arrested on a peace warrant sworn out by a man named Johnson, residing in East Washington street. Patrolman Jordan made the arrest in West State street and Wright was loaded in the police automobile at the intersection of West State and South West streets. Patrolman Baker started to frisk Wright to see if he had any weapons and Wright remonstrated vigorously, thinking the officers were trying to get his bank roll. Wright was taken to the county jail and will have a hearing before Justice Dyer this morning at 9 o'clock.

CHAUTAUQUA CAME TO SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

GREAT CROWDS HEARD PROGRAMS OF LAST DAY

Religious Services Conducted Both Morning and Evening — Killies Band in Two Programs — Ticket Sale for 1918 Near 3,000 Mark.

The last day of the chautauqua was in many respects the best and ended in a blaze of glory. The desired number of subscriptions for next year's tickets came very near the hoped for 3000. The religious exercises in the morning, the Killies both afternoon and evening, the lecture by Mr. Rennie all served to round out the grandest series of entertaining and instructive events the city has ever witnessed at one time.

The Sunday school in the morning was well attended and accompanied with much interest and the time all too short for some of the teachers.

At the preaching service Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick led in prayer. Rev. W. E. Spoons took for his text the words, "I am the way, the truth and the life," and delivered an especially powerful sermon of which a few extracts are offered.

The darkest period in the time of the revolution was when Benedict Arnold and Major Andre were plotters to turn the hands of the patriot army into the hands of the British. Andre's secretary had been told the secret and he was so utterly shocked that he could not rest but prayed to God to devise some way by which the plot might be thwarted and history tells us the result. The genuine patriot loves his country for its greatness, for what it gives him, because it is his home and the cradle of his ancestors. Christ made gentleness and patriotism and devotion to him a part of religion. Nothing is politically right that is morally wrong. The true census of any land is not its wealth but its people.

Many Religions in the World

The best service to our country is the religion of Christ. Bismarck did far less for his country than Martin Luther. Our greatest blessings are bought with the blood of Christ. There are many religions in the world but only one Christianity. The blessed Divine Son of God became man that we might get from an island in mid ocean to the mainland in safety. He is the portal to eternal life. When Christ was born of the Virgin Mary a bridge from the island to the main land was erected. He became in His incarnation the way back to God. His via dolorosa, sorrowful way, was our glorious thoroughfare, the way to the door of hope for the world.

All the figures and types in the old testament are fulfilled in Christ. Believing in Him we are bidden walk by faith and not by sight. I believe in Christ for he is my spiritual life. Unbelief is cold and bare tearing down the structure of faith, leaving mankind shivering in the cold and offering no shelter. Man is more than intellect and sensuality. Christ is the way that leads to the greatest good here and hereafter; the truth that never leads astray or makes a mistake, the life that ever exists in glorious reality.

The Highway of Holiness

Christ is to all the bread and water of life and so today let me bring Him to you that you may rejoice in the life He gives. He is the lamp to our feet and the light to our path and His blood cleanses us from all sin. He is the king's highway of holiness and thru Him comes the glory of the church, life, peace, happiness, service to our fellow men and joy eternal.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick.

The work of the Killies was certainly acceptable to the audience. The playing of the band was excellent while the bagpipe and vocal soloists were recalled half a dozen times each. The lecture of G. R. Rennie on the King and the Peasant was a fine effort and well received. He put his audience in good humor by relating one or two anecdotes and then began the discussion of his subject. He paid a glowing compliment to the patriotism of Canada and said the American people must keep up a good heart and not be conquered. Our cause is just and the right will surely triumph. In olden days the young deferred much to the older deeming them the wiser and better able to judge but of late this is somewhat reversed. Kings claimed a divine right to rule but after a way they were glad to ask human permission also. The kings and nobles occupied the highest positions and the serfs the lowest but all men longed to be free and equal. The present great conflict is to uphold the right of free government; the right of people to rule themselves and the time will surely come when that right will prevail.

Blazed the Way to Liberty
France learned from the young republic across the seas; China tried to follow her footsteps and now Russia is making the same great effort. The people wrung from King John the magna charta and then began the rule of the people of England. The Huguenots, the Pilgrims and many great leaders and reformers suffered and endured great things and blazed the way to liberty. Nations have learned from an humble rail splitter the meaning of liberty. At a great gathering of Swedish societies in this country the U. S. flag was the only banner shown and when asked why the flag of Sweden was not in evidence they replied that this was their country now.

A small band of Continental soldiers, poorly clothed and fed; suffering untold privations fought to the death for liberty and bequeathed it to their descendants. Marquette, Joliet, LaSalle, Cadillac, Duluth are names that will ever abide in the history of our land. Bravely they penetrated the wilderness and navigated lakes and rivers that they might found a new nation for future generations. They planted honor, thrift, humanity, patriotism, and all that goes to make a colony great. We want no more kings but liberty and democracy thruout the world.

The address closed with a poem, a tribute to Old glory and the land.

Evening

The vesper service was impressive and interesting. A pleasing feature was the whistling of Fred Barr who is an adept at that kind of music.

Prof. Gilbert said he had especially enjoyed the ten days of the Chautauqua and had become much attached to the people whom he had met. He had tried to do his best and had been most kindly received and he had found a rare audience each day, kind, responsive and always helpful. He praised the people of Jacksonville and the attendance on the chautauqua greatly and hoped to know more of them in the future. He closed with a beautiful poem the burden of which was,

"Give to the world the best you have and the best will come to you."

Then the directors of the chautauqua appeared on the platform. Thos. Worthington spoke briefly thanking the people for their cordial support and promising the best efforts of the association for the welfare of the enterprise and a better program each year.

None for Improvements Next Year

Dr. Harker said he hoped next year to see a good sounding board on the platform and the street railway run under the Chicago & Alton railroad bridge so that people could get nearer the grounds.

Mr. Rice thanked the people for their cheerful obedience to the rules on the grounds and especially urged all auto drivers to use great care to avoid accidents.

The meeting closed with that old time and ever blessed song, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and the benediction by Dr. F. M. Rule. The Killies followed with a fine program giving an intermission during which the sale of tickets for next year was conducted and then came back and played with the usual acceptance and with The Star Spangled Banner grandly rendered before the standing audience the sixth chautauqua ended in a blaze of glory.

Notes

Information from every source pointed to the fact that the enterprise was conducted this year with the least friction that has attended any session in years past. Perfection is not to be expected but the enterprise this year has been especially pleasing in the good feeling that has on every hand been manifested.

It is but fair to tender a kindly word to the police who were faithful in the performance of their duty while the ever devoted and competent custodian, Dan Kelly, was everywhere doing his duty faithfully.

It would be a pleasure to comply with Dr. Harker's suggestion regarding extending the street railroad in the grounds but this is impracticable. The track should run under the C. & A. bridge but unfortunately the space is too low and the track would be quite a distance under water if it were done. It is impracticable to run the track over the railroad for that would entail the erection of a bridge so high that entrance would be necessary a long distance westward and the track would have to go so far into the grounds that it would be impracticable to construct it in that manner. The question has been, as it has appeared to past park boards, thoroughly investigated and found not practicable.

CHAUTAUQUA MADE GOOD PROFIT

Directors Plan Even Better Things for 1918—Tickets for Non-Subscribers Will be Higher.

The work of taking down the big tent and the other canvas which made up the tent city at the chautauqua grounds began early Monday morning. The grounds will be practically cleared today. With the close of the chautauqua people have already begun to look back upon the event as the most successful of the series. The sale of tickets for next year is very near to the 3,000 mark. It has been announced that the price in 1918 for non-subscribers' tickets will be $2.50 and that there will be several days on which the admission fee will be 50c. The balance in the treasury at the opening of the chautauqua and the goodly sum which will be added by the profits this year put the chautauqua on a solid basis and the management in the plans for 1918 will therefore have the advantage of greater financial confidence. This means that a program even stronger than those of the past can be secured.

As mentioned above, there will be a change in the single admission price next year and the management will spend a larger sum of money in securing attractions. It is not the purpose of the chautauqua management to accumulate a large fund but to have the money needed for betterments and to give the people thru the program the best that is possible.

The management received a great many compliments this year because of the program provided and because of the well ordered way in which the big enterprise was handled. It is not to be expected that each attraction would please everybody and in arranging a program the directors seek to provide a varied program.

When one considers that there were three programs a day for a period of ten days, furnished at a total cost of $1.50, it is easy to figure how much was offered for the money charged. In the management of the grounds Secy. A. C. Rice worked with great efficiency and his various assistants were also attentive and tireless. Prof. Gilbert's capable platform management and his morning lectures on nature subjects added a distinct value to the program.

MATRIMONIAL

Mrs. Houser is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Chapman and is a young woman whose good qualities of heart and mind have gained her many friends.

VISITORS FROM MISSOURI
Mr. and Mrs. John Schmalz and sons of Webster Grove, Mo., arrived Sunday for a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schmalz on South Main street. They made the journey from their Missouri home to Jacksonville by automobile.

Supt. Perrin Plans

FOR SCHOOL DAYS

Monday, Sept. 10th, is Opening Date—High School Enrollment Will be Large—Meetings of Teachers and Principals Announced—Notes

The office of Supt. H. A. Perrin of the Jacksonville schools in the David Prince building is now open from 9 to 12 and from 2 to 4 each day. Supt. Perrin has arranged to have his office open each day from now until the beginning of school so that parents or pupils may secure any desired information. It is the desire of the superintendent that pupils who expect to enter the schools this fall begin the work Monday, Sept. 10.

It has been announced that tests for all grade school children who have been making up work this summer will be held at the David Prince building Tuesday, Sept. 4, at 8:30. On Friday of that week a meeting of principals will be held at the superintendent's office and on Saturday, Sept. 8, at 9 a. m. there will be a general teachers' meeting in the assembly hall of the David Prince building. The principals and teachers are expected to attend this session for important matters relating to the school work of the term will be discussed.

As mentioned, it is desirable that all pupils who are to enroll for the school work enter the first day. This applies with equal force to children of the first grade. The rules of the board provide that any pupil who will be six years of age before Nov. 1st may enter school at the opening of the fall term. The first day of school, in accordance with custom and necessity, little will be done other than to make announcements with reference to books required and to attend to matters of enrollment.

School Book Prices
Complete checking book lists will be issued to all the grade pupils that morning. The children or their parents will ascertain what books they already have on hand and after checking this with the official list can secure the needed books from some dealer. The superintendent will urge pupils to secure all needed books and supplies the first day, that the regular work of the class rooms can proceed in an interrupted way. It is quite likely that parents who are expecting much lower prices for books this year will be disappointed. The new state law fixes the small profit which dealers can charge but school books, like all other necessities, have advanced in price during the past year because of the increased cost of paper and other materials entering into their manufacture. The new prices will make the books cost less than would be true without the new law but by comparison with other years the prices in most instances will not be lower.

Big High School Enrollment
From all indications a great many students from the country precincts will enter the Jacksonville high school this fall. If the numbers so coming result in a crowded condition in the high school it is probable that Supt. Perrin will suggest the reorganization of the high school on the platoon plan and thus provide for a larger number of pupils without and change in facilities. The increased attendance from the county may be accounted for partially by the new high school tuition law, which provides that all the non-high school territory of the county shall be organized into a so-called "non-high school district." Under the law the election of a board of education for this district will be held Thursday, Aug. 30. It will be the duty of the board of three selected at that time to levy a tax against all the property in the non-high school district, out of which tuition of pupils residing in such territory shall be paid to the boards of education of the high school districts where such pupils decide to attend. The law fixes the tuition to be paid as the actual per capita cost of conduct and maintaining the high schools. Pupils in the proposed new non-high school district will have the choice of any high school in the county.

Many inquiries have been received by both Supt. Perrin and Supt. Vasconcellos with reference to the law. Pupils in the local high school and those who enter from the David Prince school were enrolled last spring before the close of the term. However, enrollment days will soon be announced for out of town students and for others whose names are not already on the records.

Will Test Drinking Water
In preparation for the year Supt. Perrin has sent samples of all the drinking water at the various schools to the state survey to be analyzed. Every precaution will be taken to provide pure drinking water and in fact nothing will be overlooked which it is thought can contribute to the healthful surroundings for the pupils.

OLD DAME GOSSIP CAUSED THEM TROUBLE
William Gordon and his wife of 313 Olive street spent an hour in jail yesterday as the result of too much gossip on the part of their neighbors. Some started a story that the two were not married and someone added to it that the Jacksonville police were looking for them on the charge. Someone else reported it to the police and the two were taken into custody until the police were found out the story was a canard. Then Gordon and his wife were released. They recently came here from Jacksonville.—Peoria Journal.

Johnston, Ed Dunlap, James Elliott, J. M. Butler and Judge W. E. Thomson.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT
FIX MEAT PRICES

Food Administrator Hoover Says
There is no Foundation for Statement that Beef and Pork Prices
Will be Fixed by Food Administration.

Chicago, Ill., August 27.—Herbert C. Hoover, food administrator, last night issued the following official statement, after meeting the packers and editors of farm papers:

"Mr. Hoover wishes to state emphatically that there is no foundation for any statement that the food administration has any intention to fix prices of beef or pork products. The administration hopes to develop by discussion with representative committees of the hog producers, the cattle producers, the commission men and the packers greater stability of the industry during the war, and in such a way to encourage production, to eliminate speculative profits and risks so far as may be, and by so doing to protect the consumer. These discussions will take some time, and action will only be taken after mature consideration, and then only with the co-operation of all the groups concerned. No rumors of reports to the contrary should be given the slightest consideration."

Hoover came to Chicago today from Washington for his first conference with the packers. His assistant, M. L. Regua, preceded Hoover and had a conference for several hours with the chief packers. Among those present at the conference were Charles H. Swift and T. H. Ingerson of Swift & Co.; Thomas E. Wilson of Wilson & Co.; Nelson Morris and Edward Morris, Jr., of Morris & Co.; and Arthur Meeker, vice president of Armour & Co. The conference will continue tomorrow and Hoover expects to return to Washington Sunday night.

Gifford Pinchot and Frances J. Heney, counsel for the Federal Trade Commission, were active in the conference.

Hoover Made Good Impression.
Hoover made an extremely favorable impression upon the packers. They found him very modest, simple, direct, apparently absolutely frank as to his plans and very forceful as a speaker.

Hoover did not come to Chicago to fix prices for food. The law gives him extraordinary powers in that direction, but he is occupied, at the moment, with the wheat and coal situation, which requires immediate action. Hoover told the packers that he knew a great deal more about a great many subjects than he did about beef and pork. He said he would outline in a general way what the government found it necessary to do. He counted on the co-operation, advice and assistance of the packers to accomplish what is necessary.

May Expect Slight Decline.
The opinion was expressed at the conference that food prices have reached the apex for the present and that a slight decline might even be expected in the near future. Hoover said the government believes that it will be necessary this year, and probably for several years to come, for the government itself to stimulate the production of meat of both hogs and cattle. The slaughter of hogs for fat in Germany and of cattle in France and the Argentine for food during the war has been so great that at least five years of intensive cultivation in the United States will be required to make up the void. This means continued high prices for cattle and hogs.

The government may extend the policy of the price fixing to cattle and hogs on the farm and to packers' products in the cities next year. But it will not do so this year. It is possible the government may even forbid or restrict the killing of hogs and the sale of veal in order that more cattle may be raised.

Cannot Fix Prices in Advance.
Editors of weeklies and of agricultural papers are to be urged by Hoover to spread broadcast appeals to farmers to raise more ewes, cows and hogs for breeding purposes. While it will be impossible to fix prices in advance for these animal products, as the president has already fixed the price of wheat for next year's crop under the food law, the government will be able to assure the farmers handsome profits for all the hogs and steers and sheep they can raise.

The tourists had tents with them and went into camp each night and thoroughly enjoyed the outing. They were nearly ten days in the vicinity of Buffalo and Niagara Falls and Mr. MacVicar and family have been in Chicago for a week. The distance covered was 3,000 miles.

The quarterly conference adopted a vote of thanks to Charles Hopper, treasurer; Miss Ara Vaught, financial secretary; W. E. Hall, chairman of the finance commission. Thanks was voted also to E. A. Hearn and Mrs. J. Edgar Martin for efficient service as chorister and organist of the summer choir.

NO CHANGE MADE IN EXEMPTION RULINGS

"Fact of Dependency" the Basis of Decision in the Consideration of All Claims.

The headlines of some of the metropolitan papers have been misleading, calculated to cause a great deal of sorrow and disappointed hopes. One Sunday newspaper of recent date begins an article with the heading, "Married Men Exempt," and the body of the article contains a true statement of the place held by dependency as a basis for decision, the headline stirred up much discussion and was the cause of a number of inquiries to the local board.

As has been stated many times, the existence of dependents and not the fact of marriage, is the basis upon which claims for dependency must be founded. The president's letter upholds in every point the construction on the law and rulings in regard to claims for dependency made by the local board. The board has no instructions, by wire or otherwise, changing the law and rulings heretofore received.

RED CROSS TO EQUIP
LABORATORY CARS

For Emergency Work Against Possible Outbreaks of Epidemics in Cantonment Camps — Volunteer Staffs of Experts to be in Readiness for Any Call.

The Medical Advisory Committee of the Red Cross War Council has just decided to equip five laboratory railroad cars which will be prepared for emergency work against possible outbreaks of epidemics in cantonment camps in this country.

Each car will have a staff of five or more experts and will be stationed at various cities that any cantonment can be reached with one of these laboratory cars within twenty four hours on receipt of request from federal or state authorities.

Dr. R. M. Pearce, Secretary of the Medical Advisory Committee, in explaining the plan said:

"In sudden emergencies such as epidemics of meningitis or diphtheria, either inside a military encampment or in the vicinity, a great deal of highly specialized laboratory work will be necessary for proper control of the epidemic. Although laboratories will be established in each district, sufficient for ordinary requirements, these may have neither the equipment nor the staff to meet such emergencies, and to enlarge all of these laboratories would be excessively expensive.

"The setting up of an emergency laboratory always involves loss of time and some confusion. The most practical way to meet the requirements is to have several laboratory cars, fully equipped and distributed at various points throughout the country, so that one may be delivered at any point within twenty four hours. Various large laboratories will furnish volunteer staffs of the most competent men in the country, held in readiness to respond immediately to any call. By this arrangement a fully equipped laboratory with experienced staff, prepared to begin work at once, will be immediately available wherever needed."

The U. S. Public Health Service has such a mobile laboratory unit and Surgeon General Rupert Blue said the Red Cross cars would prove of the greatest assistance in the control of civilian sanitary districts. The plan has also been commended by the Surgeons General of the United States Army and Navy.

MRS. MARTHA CAPPS OLIVER

In Memoriam

On Wednesday morning, August 15th, 1917, within a few days of her seventy-second anniversary, this gifted woman passed to her eternal home.

The greater part of her life was spent in the home on North Church street, which was built by her father, Joseph Capps, more than three quarters of a century ago. She was an alumna of the Illinois Conference Female College, now the Woman's College, of the class of 1862.

In 1865 she married Mr. William Archibald Oliver. For five years after her marriage her home was in Virginia, Illinois.

In early life Mrs. Oliver became a communicant in the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, to the ordinances, service, and varied interests of which she was ardently devoted. The affliction of an increasing deafness in later years deprived her of the joy of hearing the preached word and joining in the songs of the sanctuary, but, as Dr. L. D. McCabe once said, "Mattie is like an imprisoned angel, hearing 'songs that never shall float into speech' and holding converse unutterable with the spirit world."

"Her soul walked softly in her like a saint in heaven unshod. For to be alone with silence Is to be alone with God."

Since her death a friend has remarked, "Mrs. Oliver's devout attendance upon the services of the church long after she had ceased to hear, was to me the most eloquent of sermons."

The deep longings and aspirations of her heart had beautiful exposition in the eager, wistful expression of her countenance, and to all who knew her it was a comfort to think that, after all, the silent influences of God's House, the all pervading quickening and illumination of the Holy Ghost, the tangible delights of Christian fellowship and the uplifting sense of the eternal communion of all saints could not be hindered.

in their mystic operation upon mind and soul.

In all the new-born activities of the church at home or in far off fields she was an enthusiastic co-partner, with unstinted liberality, giving her time, her means and the fruits of her genius to the cause in hand.

In all the humanitarian enterprises of the community, hospitals and charities, she was deeply interested and always responded generously to every call which they made upon her. She was proud of Jacksonville and did what she could in advancing its importance and efficiency and in the splendid development of its resources material, intellectual, moral and social to meet the needs of the day and realize the true ideals of the modern city.

No one would be quicker than Mrs. Oliver to acknowledge her debt to the favoring influences Jacksonville has thrown about her life. Such an environment has done much to foster her growth into excellence of authorship recognized throughout the land.

Her flowers of thought and bloom of poetry found no frosty airs of non-appreciation to contend with. Here was a large public of artistic taste and intellectual refinement, a real though unassuming atmosphere of finest thought, here was opportunity of contact with men and women eminent in the church and the nation, here were institutions of education and humane help opening and widening all currents of humanitarian impulses and mental and spiritual earnestness, and here converged the gentle blood of South and East into a rich correlation of forces, Cavalier and Puritan. "He writes me, 'These verses are perfect in rhythm, not a break, not a license in the whole poem. More than that, the sentiment is strong and beautiful.'"

With such wealth of contributing circumstance combining with her superb endowments it can not be surprising that Mrs. Oliver's work attained a high mark of literary and poetical value. Long ago it was seen that she had "dipped her pen in that light which only the immortals can reach." Thus spoke a former president of the Woman's College, "Mrs. Oliver's poem, 'Echo,' pleased me so much that I sent it to a literary friend with whom I am accustomed to exchange 'best finds.' He writes me, 'These verses are perfect in rhythm, not a break, not a license in the whole poem. More than that, the sentiment is strong and beautiful.'"

From youth she was a ready writer, but did not submit anything to publishers until after her marriage. A few stories marked her first appeal to the public eye and these quickly created a demand for more and since then her writings have had wide publication in the United States, England and France. Altogether Mrs. Oliver has written over fifteen hundred poems. At one time she supplied the entire Easter output of the largest publishing house in the west. Her pen was much drawn on for holiday and Christmas work in addition to which she wrote librettos for cantatas for special occasions. Devotional poems, hymns and words for anthems are among the best in a generation notable for this form of poetry. There were also occasional volumes of original verse and also some compilations of poetry, year books and birthday books, in which her artistic discrimination are finely exemplified.

Collaborating with Ida Scott Taylor she brought out in 1893 "The Story of Columbus Told in Rhyme." For a time she was associate editor of the "Century Christian" and other magazines.

A leading educator sends this timely recognition of Mrs. Oliver's character and ability. "Martha Capps Oliver was an unusual woman. Though becoming acquainted with her when the charm of youth had waned it was obvious at once that I had met a woman of strong personality, with knowledge of literature and real poetic insight. Her conversation was always refreshing and stimulating. Knowing her, amply explained the thrilling melody and full weighted thought of her poems. Jacksonville has indeed lost one of her distinguished women."

The Illinois Statesman of August 1911, in an article devoted to Mrs. Oliver and her work pays this tribute among many others:

"With her work carried directly into the home, through the church, the Sunday School, the public school, nearly all of her writings have had a powerful uplifting influence."

All forms of life and work interested her and she took gladly every opportunity, however commonplace, it might be, to speak the word of help and inspiration. None the less she walked the heights gathering glory from far visions into the empires of an exalted idealism, a lofty spirit, a soul of that iridescent character, which showed her manifold contacts with worlds of thought and beauty. Her poetry, silken meshed though it was, was strong to hold great living palpitating beating thoughts. Some of her work is akin to sculpture where the artist has gathered joy and rest with beauty from spirit realms and moulded them into eternal loveliness, and some suggests the art of painting, every picturesque line bearing its part in the argument as a picture in some co-ordinate galaxy. Now as in her "Wind Horses" there is the impression of a Michael-Angelo effect—a majestic fresco thrown upon the blue expanse of Heaven, now a delicately rimmed vignette in all the manner of the miniaturist. Lord Byron always acknowledged the formative influence upon his style of thought of Hebrew poetry lending grandeur, vitality and force. And one can not read Mrs. Oliver's "Lift Up Your Heads," or "Resurgam" or "An Easter Legend" without feeling in them the thrust of faith, the mounting of hopes and splendid assurance gained from lifelong study of the bards who make our Bible flame with what they saw and heard.

She belongs to that limited but powerful kindred of writers who have the skill and the force to translate the certainties of Christian experience and spiritual life into enduring art-forms to attract and hold the mind to these highest things.

The long tragedy of her deafness was borne with a fortitude that could only come from a philosophy of life based upon the eternal verities. Now she begins to live indeed. Perhaps she has found that she was cut off from the jarring sounds of time that through the years she might learn sweetness of divine harmonies which ever and anon swelled through heart and brain, thus preparing her in larger, sweeter manner for the full-voiced wonders of the choir immortal.

We who loved and admired her think with joy of the eternal years that she whose brain and hand gave strength and help on earth is still able to bless and comfort only in larger, richer, sweeter fullness.

All tender memories of her, her kindness, her wisdom, her generosity, are but suggestions and promises that she whose brain and hand gave strength and help on earth is still able to bless and comfort only in larger, richer, sweeter fullness.

The Wind Horses

Martha Capps Oliver
"The Wind Horses break from their prisoning stalls,
And plunge through the night as it deepens and falls—
They dash over mountain and valley and plain
Disdainful of halter, or bridle, or rein."

Like powers of darkness, like spirits from hell,
No reason can stay them, no menace can quell;
No terror can daunt them, no threat can delay—
Pursued and pursuing, they gallop away.

The sound of their rage is abroad in the land,
Now shrill with invective or hoarse command,
As neighing in terror or screaming with fright,
They drive through the shadows and sweep through the night.

They charge like to squadrons, all mad for the fray,
From North and from South, and from far and away,
They rally and grapple, or lunge to and fro,
All earth for their enemy, nature their foe.

They close from the front, from the rear, from the flanks,
From the right, from the left, in undisciplined ranks;
The ring of their hoofs as they trample and beat
Proclaiming their line of advance or retreat.

Their manes are like whips, as they toss in the air,
Like lashes and scourges they sting and they tear,
Till clouds all in tatters go hurrying by—
The vagabond imps of the turbulent sky.

Their breath wakes the wrath of the turbulent sea,
Which tosses and rocks, as a giant in pain—
It beats on the shore and it hurls 'gainst the rock
Its frenzy impelling each furious shock.

But on through the shadows, on, on through the night,
The wind horses sweep to the left, to the right,
With prance and with curvet, they gallop and wheel,
As forward they swing or as backward they reel.

The reeds, by the river, the leaves on the trees,
Are shaking and trembling, the shivering breeze,
Is fanned to a tempest, a merciless gale,
Destroying whatever its ire may assail.

The morn dawns at last, and the sun shows his face,
And frowns as he girds up his loins for a race—
Defeated and sullen and angry and sore,
The Wind Horses creep to their caverns once more.

Questionings
Father—(died 1872.)
I wonder if the dear dead face
We laid beneath the daisies,
Has gained in heaven new dignity,
Or what its added grace is.

I wonder if (Lord, is it sin?)
His heart from heaven keeps turning—
ing,
To those he loved and left behind
Life's solemn lessons learning.

I wonder if the upright heart
That saw all good so clearly
Sees 'neath our faults the good intent,
And loves us now more dearly.

I wonder if he watches still
Our coming and our going;
If in our hearts he yearns to see
Peace, like a river flowing.

Sometimes when dark clouds drift aside
And show the blue sky under,
Does he look down while we look up?
I wonder—oh—I wonder!

If with true hearts, though faltering steps
We bow our burdens under—
We'll see him when we "gather home"
I know! I do not wonder.

BANQUET IS PLANNED FOR U. S. SOLDIERS

Citizens Will Unite in Paying Honors to Men in First Quota—Band to Escort Men to Train

At a meeting held in the circuit court room Monday evening preliminary steps were taken toward arranging for an entertainment in honor of the men who will be called in the first quota for the army from Morgan county.

The meeting was called to order by Miller Weir, chairman of the Morgan county exemption board and Dr. Edward Bowe acted as secretary. In addition to the chairman and secretary there were present the following: Commander George Faul and Adjutant C. E. McDougall of Matt Starr post G. A. R., Mayor Rodgers, John J. Reeve, William Batz, Rev. W. E. Spoonst, Frank Bode, Judge William E. Thomson, John Larson, C. F. Doying, Phillip Dooling, Francis Purcell and George W. Davis.

The discussion of the kind of entertainment to be provided was entirely informal, nearly everyone present taking part and various suggestions were made. The suggestions ranged from a big mass meeting in the opera house to a big parade and banquet.

Dr. Bowe made a suggestion that a banquet be served to all of the men called in the first quota. He thought the banquet should be only for the men and that some of their number should do the speaking. It was the opinion of Dr. Bowe that the men who probably will serve together for some time would want to get acquainted and to visit their families. It was his thought that the banquet be served about noon and then the afternoon given over to the men and then a big parade headed by the band, G. A. R. and W. R. C. and citizens to escort the first quota to the train.

This suggestion met with approval from those present and it was decided to let Commander Faul select his committee to meet and make definite arrangements and decided upon the kind of entertainment to be offered to the men.

At the suggestion of Major McDougall those present in addition to the G. A. R. and W. R. C. constitute the committee. The time of meeting was then fixed for 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the Ayers National bank.

At this meeting definite plans will be perfected. It is practically assured that the entertainment will take the form of a banquet for all of the men drafted for the first quota. The place of holding it will also be decided. Rev. W. E. Spoonst said that Northminster church could be used if it was wanted. Others present expressed the opinion that any church in the city would be glad to donate its facilities for the banquet.

SIDEWALK TALK IN COUNCIL SESSION

Residents of East College Street File Protest—Fees for Street Carnivals Are Increased

Protests against the laying of sidewalks in East College avenue and another discussion of the famous sidewalk controversy on the east side of Hardin avenue between East College avenue and Rountt street took up most of the time at the regular session of the city council Monday morning.

Roll call showed all members present. The clerk read the minutes of the last regular and special sessions which were approved as read.

A petition from property owners along the south side of East College avenue between South East street and South Clay avenue was read protesting against the laying of sidewalks in front of their respective properties. The petition stated that all of the brick walks were in good condition and that the property owners should not be compelled to go to the expense of taking them up and replacing with concrete walks.

Ben Jaeger one of the petitioners in addressing the council said that he did not see why he should be compelled to take up a good brick sidewalk and build a concrete sidewalk. The speaker said that he took a great pride in keeping his property in good condition and that when the time came that he needed a walk that he would lay it without any instructions from the council.

Mrs. J. F. Nifong was most emphatic in her remarks. She said that her late husband had built the present walk in front of her property at his own expense. She did not believe that a walk should be forced on her, a widow, who needed money for a new roof on her home. Mrs. Nifong also said that she had consulted legal authority and had been informed that the city could not compel the building of a walk where there already was a good one.

Mayor Rodgers in replying to the objections said that it would be impossible to abrogate a part of the ordinance without nullifying the entire ordinance. It was the desire of the council, the mayor said to make the walks uniform and this could only be done by putting in concrete walks where there were brick walks, even if the brick walks were in good condition. He also called attention to the fact that no public improvement could be made without it working a hardship on somebody. The mayor in reply to a remark by some of the objectors that there were other places where walks were needed more than in front of the properties in question read a list of a large number of streets where ordinances had been passed for walks to show that the council was trying to get good walks in all parts of the city.

After the discussion Commissioner Cox seconded by Commissioner Widmayer moved that the petition be received and placed on file. On roll call the motion carried by a unanimous vote.

Under the head of departments Commissioner Martin said that the matter of moving the flagman's house at the North Church street crossing of the Wabash railroad was in the hands of the city attorney for investigation. The plan is to move the house to some other location as it obstructs the view of vehicle drivers to the west when approaching the tracks from the south. This makes it especially dangerous after 6 o'clock in the evening when there is no flagman on duty.

Mayor Rodgers reported that wherever possible the telephone companies and light company would place their poles in the alleys.

The ordinance amending the ordinance relative to the licensing of street carnivals was given a second reading and adopted. The ordinance provides for a fee of $2 a performance and $1 for each performance thereafter of shows charging an admission of twenty-five cents or less and a fee of $75 for a carnival company for a week.

The ordinance providing for the laying of walks in Hardin avenue on both sides of the avenue was given a first reading. The ordinance covers the much discussed walks between East College avenue and Rountt street. Commissioner Cox said that he did not believe that Mr. Carter could be compelled to rebuild his walk and that if the walk was set out that it would probably result in the city having to pay for the rebuilding of Mr. Carter's walk. There was a great deal of discussion and Mr. Heffernan who was present said that while he had not contemplated an entire rebuilding of Mr. Carter's walk, that if it was necessary that he would agree to it. The ordinance was then given a first reading and laid over under the rules.

There being no further business the council on motion adjourned.

DAMAGED HORSE AND BUGGY.

Allen Tankersly of Winchester, while driving his car along the south side of the square Sunday evening collided with a horse and buggy tied in front of the Hoover Millinery store. The horse was knocked down and a spoke knocked out of one of the rear wheels of the buggy and the coupling pole damaged. Mr. Tankersly gave his name to the police and told them to tell the owner of the rig to advise him of the damages so that he could pay the bill. The horse and buggy were taken to the Cherry livery to await the call of the owner who was not known.

A number of Jacksonville people have gone to Havana for a camping and fishing outing. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Degen, George Imgrund, Mr. and Mrs. James McBride and Miss Margaret Gorman. Mrs. Imgrund and daughter and Miss Emma Duke of New Orleans joined the camping party Sunday.

QUARTERLY CONFERENCE AT NAPLES M. E. CHURCH

Reports from All Departments of Church Activity Indicate Satisfactory Conditions—Rain Interferes With Picnic at Sears Grove—Other Naples Notes

Naples Aug. 27.—Tom Bentley has been off duty this week on account of illness.

Prof. Ben F. Kirgan, principal of our schools with his family is back from his summer vacation and busy planning for the new year's work. They have moved into the Mrs. Maggie Pine home.

Jake Williams, a 78-year old youngster, is out from Jacksonville the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Tom Bentley. He is not in good health.

The Methodist church held its fourth quarterly conference Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, District Superintendent F. A. McCarty presiding. All departments were represented and reports presented, the same eliciting pleased and favorable comment by the superintendent. A desire was expressed that Rev. Haas be returned. The preaching service was held in the evening at Oxville. The church was filled and Rev. McCarty gave the audience a splendid sermon in preliminary remarks touching on world conditions and the need of all the people putting their shoulders squarely behind the burden of the government to push it into victory for the freedom of the world.

Mark Hale, our fifty tonsorial artist, has place in a shop in Winchester, the hub of the county.

Harold Chambers and wife of near Mercedosa, was in town this week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chambers.

Sheriff Coultas and wife of Winchester were here one day this week. Mrs. Coultas calling at the home of Harvey Green while the sheriff transacted business.

Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Hatfield were Jacksonville visitors on Thursday.

Ex-postmaster Joe Mayes is off duty at the store this week on account of sickness. Eliza Hatfield is splendidly substituting.

The Misses Margaret and Mildred Green, Cecil and Lela Hatfield and Norma Abrams drove to Griggsville Tuesday in the Green car to call on their friends, the Misses Warton. The rain in the afternoon slicked the road so badly that they did not get very far in start homeward when the car skidded and they found themselves headed back toward Griggsville and remained over till next day.

The Sunday school classes taught by Mrs. Orville Smith and Mrs. Will Hamilton gave a hamburger, sandwich, coffee, ice cream and cake social Saturday evening on the lawn just east of the big brick. A good attendance and fine time are reported.

James Chambers, wife and son Will, and Grandma Chambers spent the week in drive to Peoria, Burlington and Keokuk, Iowa.

Frank Mappin and family moved to Valley City this week where he is night operator. Mrs. Nellie Bartholomew, who disposed of her confectionery and ice cream parlor to Albert Ellis and son, will occupy the Mappin home.

Misses Fanny and Lilly Chapman accompanied Rev. and Mrs. Haas to Jacksonville Saturday to hear the "Kitties" Band and Chief Caupolican at the Chautauqua.

The annual picnic at Sears' Grove by the M. E. church of Oxville Wednesday was only a partial success on account of the heavy rain during the night before and the damp and threatening aspects of the picnic day morning. The afternoon clearing up brought out quite a nice crowd from the immediate vicinity. George Abrams and family drove to Mercedosa Friday afternoon.

Charles Adams and Mabel Bentley two of our young folks, bled themselves to Pittsfield Monday where they were united in marriage.

We noted Mrs. J. M. Ritter, Mrs. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. John Haley, Mrs. Ed Gregory and daughter Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, Sr., Mrs. Wally Hatfield, Miss Marjorie and Master Jamie Hamilton taking the excursion boat for Beardstown Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Burl Gregory of Springfield, were guests at the home of his brother, Edward and other relatives a part of this week. Rev. and Mrs. E. Geo. E. Haas were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Nunn, 2 1-2 miles southeast of Mercedosa, Sunday afternoon where at 4:30 o'clock the reverend performed the happy ceremony uniting their daughter Flossie L. with Harold R. Chambers of Naples in the holy bonds of matrimony. Beside the minister and his wife only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present, twenty in number. The attending couple were Jesse Nunn, brother of the bride, and Miss Gertrude Sorrell of Matherberry, a near friend of the bride. A most excellent supper was served after the ceremony. The groom has a position with an automobile factory in Flint, Mich., in which place they will take up abode in about two weeks.

RED CROSS HAS TRANSPORTATION SERVICE

To Handle Vast Quantities of Medical and Relief Supplies Shipped to Europe—To Co-operate with U. S. Shipping Board.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27.—To handle the vast quantities of medical and relief supplies now being shipped almost daily to the Red Cross Commission for Europe to aid the stricken peoples of France, Belgium, Serbia and other belligerent countries, the establishment of a Red Cross Transportation Service is announced today by the Red Cross War Council.

This new branch of Red Cross activities has been made possible through the co-operation of the French, British and Italian governments, the United States Shipping board, and the leading steamship and railroad companies. President Wilson has taken a personal interest in the establishment of this service. His aid and that of Chairman Edward N. Hurley, of the Shipping Board, formerly a member of the Red Cross War Council, have been invaluable to its success.

Free Cargo Space
Practically all the cargo space needed for the shipment of Red Cross supplies abroad has now been placed at the disposal of the War Council. Much of it has been given free by the steamship companies and the allied governments. This will only be used for supplies most urgently needed abroad.

As manager of ocean shipping for the period of the war, the War Council has appointed A. C. Fetterolf, freight traffic manager of the International Mercantile Marine company, who is to serve without salary. Mr. Fetterolf is to be assisted by A. E. Mack, president of the Cosmopolitan Shipping company, also a volunteer, and by Walter Moore, of the firm of Lanham and Moore. Mr. Moore will be in charge of the booking of all Red Cross shipments.

The Railroads War Board, controlling the rail shipments of all the railroads in the country, has also notified the War Council that Red Cross shipments going to the seaboard or elsewhere will be exempt from embargoes which will give them the right of way over all freight except that of the government.

Allies Respond To Needs.
The allied governments especially have responded generously to the needs of the Red Cross. Following the recommendations of M. Andre Tardieu, French High Commissioner to the United States, the French government has given permission for the forwarding of Red Cross supplies on French transports leaving this country. Space has also been provided on steamers of the French line, through the assistance of M. Oscar Cauchois, American director for the line.

The British admiralty through Mr.

Connop Guthrie, has also taken the unusual step of permitting British freight transports to handle emergency Red Cross supplies. Mr. Palanca, representing the Italian government, has authorized Red Cross shipments on Italian transports, while the Russian shipping representative in the United States, Mr. Medzhikovskiy, has taken similar action. The Nippon Yusen Kaisha, a Japanese steamship line, operating from New York to Vladivostok through the Panama Canal, has also volunteered to be of assistance to the Red Cross whenever required.

Army Transports To Carry Supplies.
Through co-operations with the United States Shipping board, the Red Cross is to be provided with cargo space on every steamer chartered by the board. Army transports also will carry Red Cross supplies. Practically every line has made reductions on its passenger steamers for Red Cross nurses and representatives traveling in Europe.

In making its ocean shipping arrangements, it will be the policy of the Red Cross to distribute shipments among as many steamers as possible. By using all available lines, losses at sea, if sustained, will not seriously interrupt Red Cross work of mercy.

Some of the lines that have given invaluable assistance to the Red Cross in forwarding its shipments are: The Oriental Navigation company, The Cosmopolitan Steamship company, the Royal Belgian Lloyd, the American Line, the French and Canadian Steamship company, the Fabre Line, the Barber Line, and A. Lawrence Smith, Inc.

N. Y. Furnishes Warehouse Space.
Through the courtesy of the City of New York, and the co-operation of R. A. C. Smith, Commissioner of Docks and Ferries, of the City of New York, who is also Associate Director of Red Cross Supply Service, warehouse space owned by the city has been placed at the disposal of the Red Cross. The Red Cross is now using a large brick warehouse at 57th street and the North River, and has built in record time with the aid of Messrs. Post and McCord, two additional warehouses adjoining. This location is directly in front of the new pier development of the city of New York and affords the Red Cross exceptional storage and shipping facilities. It also relieves the congestion of the Bush Terminal Docks which have been donated to the Red Cross since the beginning of the war by Mr. Irving T. Bush.

Increase Lead Full Game by Trouncing New York 3 to 0 as Tigers Rout Boston—Indians Lose Slugging Game to Senators.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Chicago gained a full game on Boston in the American league pennant race today, by shutting out New York 3 to 0, while Detroit won from Boston. The White Sox are now three games ahead of Boston.

Shawkey handed the game to Chicago in the seventh inning. He walked Felsch, Gandil and Schalk, and Manager Rowland then sent Eddie Murphy in as pinch-hitter for Cicotte. He singled to right sending Felsch and Gandil home. Schalk, who had gone to third, then scored on a wild pitch.

Shawkey was putout of the game after retiring Chicago in the seventh for protesting heatedly to O'Laughlin against the umpire's rulings on balls and strikes.

GIRLS! MAKE A
BEAUTY LOTION
WITH LEMONS

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles, and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it. Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough, red hands.—Adv.

FEAR OF FROST

STRENGTHENS CORN
Market Closes Strong and Near Top
—Oats Closes 3/4 to 3/8 Cents
Higher

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Fear of frost in the northwest did much to strengthen corn
prices today and the market closed
strong and near the top 10 1/2c higher with December at $1.06 1/2c, and May at $1.06 1/2c. Oats closed strong 3/4c
higher and provisions finished at an advance of from 3 to 3 1/2c final figures being
at the top of the day.

Local shorts invaded the corn market
and with commission house buying caused
an advance which showed the market
well toward the top until the final trade.
Word from fields that frost could easily damage large areas gave impetus to the upward trend.

Cash wheat was somewhat easier but traders were waiting on the price to
be set by the government.
Country offerings of oats were not impressive. The market followed the course of corn. Thrashing returns showed large yields and cash sales aggregated 225,000
bushels.

Advances in live hogs gave strength
to provisions.

FEAR OF FROST

STRENGTHENS CORN
Market Closes Strong and Near Top
—Oats Closes 3/4 to 3/8 Cents
Higher

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Fear of frost in the northwest did much to strengthen corn
prices today and the market closed
strong and near the top 10 1/2c higher
with December at $1.06 1/2c, and May
at $1.06 1/2c. Oats closed strong 3/4c
higher and provisions finished at an advance of from 3 to 3 1/2c final figures being
at the top of the day.

Local shorts invaded the corn market
and with commission house buying caused
an advance which showed the market
well toward the top until the final trade.
Word from fields that frost could easily
damage large areas gave impetus to the
upward trend.

Cash wheat was somewhat easier but traders were waiting on the price to
be set by the government.
Country offerings of oats were not impressive. The market followed the course of corn. Thrashing returns showed large yields and cash sales aggregated 225,000
bushels.

Advances in live hogs gave strength
to provisions.

SUGGESTIONS FOR AUGUST AND SEPT. VACATIONS

Leave Chicago any evening at 5:30 p. m. or 7:00 p. m. via the Chicago & North Western Railway.

Arrive in the Great North Woods and Lake Region of Wisconsin-Michigan in time for breakfast.

Spend two weeks of unalloyed pleasure in fishing, boating, swimming and canoeing.

Return at the end of vacation restored in mind and body and feeling 100 per cent.

October is also an ideal month in the North Woods Country. There is a keenness in the air and the forests are ablaze with color. Fishing and hunting are good.

CARPENTER THINKS FIRST OF FRIENDS

Smith At Once Recommends Tanlac to Them After His Great Relief

Hoping that many of his friends may profit by his experience, James M. Smith, well known local carpenter of 829 North Main street, made the following convincing statement regarding Tanlac, the Master Medicine, on April 21:

"I have had stomach trouble for years and my system generally has been all run down and out of shape. I couldn't eat any heavy foods without suffering much distress afterward. I was so nervous it was practically impossible for me to sleep at night. My condition finally became so serious I couldn't work only about half the time."

"After reading so much in the local papers about its good work, I decided to try Tanlac. I'm now taking my second bottle and although it's hard to believe, I feel improved in every way. I'm not so nervous now, sleep soundly at night and get up in the morning feeling fine. I eat heartily every meal and thoroughly enjoy them. I'm working every day now."

Tanlac is, without doubt, the best medicine I've ever taken and I want my friends to try it and receive the same benefits that I have."

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Jacksonville at the East and West side stores of the Coover-Shreve Drug Co. It is sold in Waverly at the Wyle Drug Co.; in New Berlin at the New Berlin Drug Co.; in Ashland at H. O. Brownback's; in Versailles at A. G. Bates'; in Chapin at F. P. McKinney's; in Roodhouse at W. D. Berry's; in White Hall at the City Drug store; in Bluffs at F. T. Curtis'; in Pittsfield at J. H. Barber & Co.; in Loomis at L. M. VanDoren's; in Diverson at E. G. Haug's; in Manchester at C. D. Chapman's; in Winchester at the City Drug Store.—Adv.

don't gamble

with the prosperity of your community on the long chance of making a few dollars yourself. Don't send away for merchandise which you may be able to buy a few cents cheaper than the home merchant can sell to you.

Leaving all sentimental reasons aside—town loyalty, local pride, and so forth—it's bad business for you to spend your money outside the community in which you live. Because every cent you spend away from home makes the community that much poorer. Land values go down; streets, schools and churches grow steadily worse—you yourself in time will feel the pinch of it. And your children will feel it, too, only more than you.

Don't try to save a few cents now, and run the risk of losing a whole lot later on.

Trade with the merchants in your own community. The more you buy from them, the better can they serve you. Buy your groceries from your local grocer.

Many grocers throughout central Illinois have been selling BUNNY BRAND Pure Food Products for years. BUNNY BRAND groceries are extra standard—as good as any in their line. They are always good, year after year. They yield the grocer a fair, equitable profit. They will please you. The house that stands back of BUNNY goods stands back of the local grocer.
